Riba

Riba is a declaration of intentions and a clear tribute to designers such as Jean Prouvé, George Nelson and Friso Kramer. This collection mixes ancestral techniques such as the braiding of natural fibres with aluminium, a material that had its heyday in the fifties. Now, the metal frame replaces traditional wood, while natural fibre has been replaced with a synthetic material in order to provide greater weather resistance.

1950

The 1950 collection combines wrought iron work with 21st century technology. The pieces, formerly shaped from heavy iron, are now ingeniously produced with aluminium, a much lighter material that is more weather resistant. Like any good design, their aesthetics come from their structure. A tribute to civil works built in the second half of the 19th century.
