Welcome to Fritz Hansen

Discover our curated range of outdoor furniture, umbrellas and cushions. Co-created with renowned architects and designers, the collection's design language originates from Danish functionalism and woodcraft traditions in outdoor furniture, transformed into contemporary and relevant pieces.

Explore pieces known for their functionality, durability and relevance over the decades - and new designs yet to write history.

Outdoor Designs Crafted to Last

At Fritz Hansen, longevity is more than a design principle: it's a way of thinking. From the materials we choose to the way each piece is crafted, everything is considered with time in mind. We create furniture not for seasons, but for generations.

Every curve, joint and surface is made to endure daily life, gaining character, not wear. Our designs are built with integrity, using high-quality materials that age gracefully. Spare parts and thoughtful construction ensure that each piece can be cared for, maintained, and enjoyed well into the future. In a world that moves quickly, we take a longer view. Because true sustainability starts with making something so well, there's no reason to replace it.

Dining

Outdoor tables and chairs for shared meals.

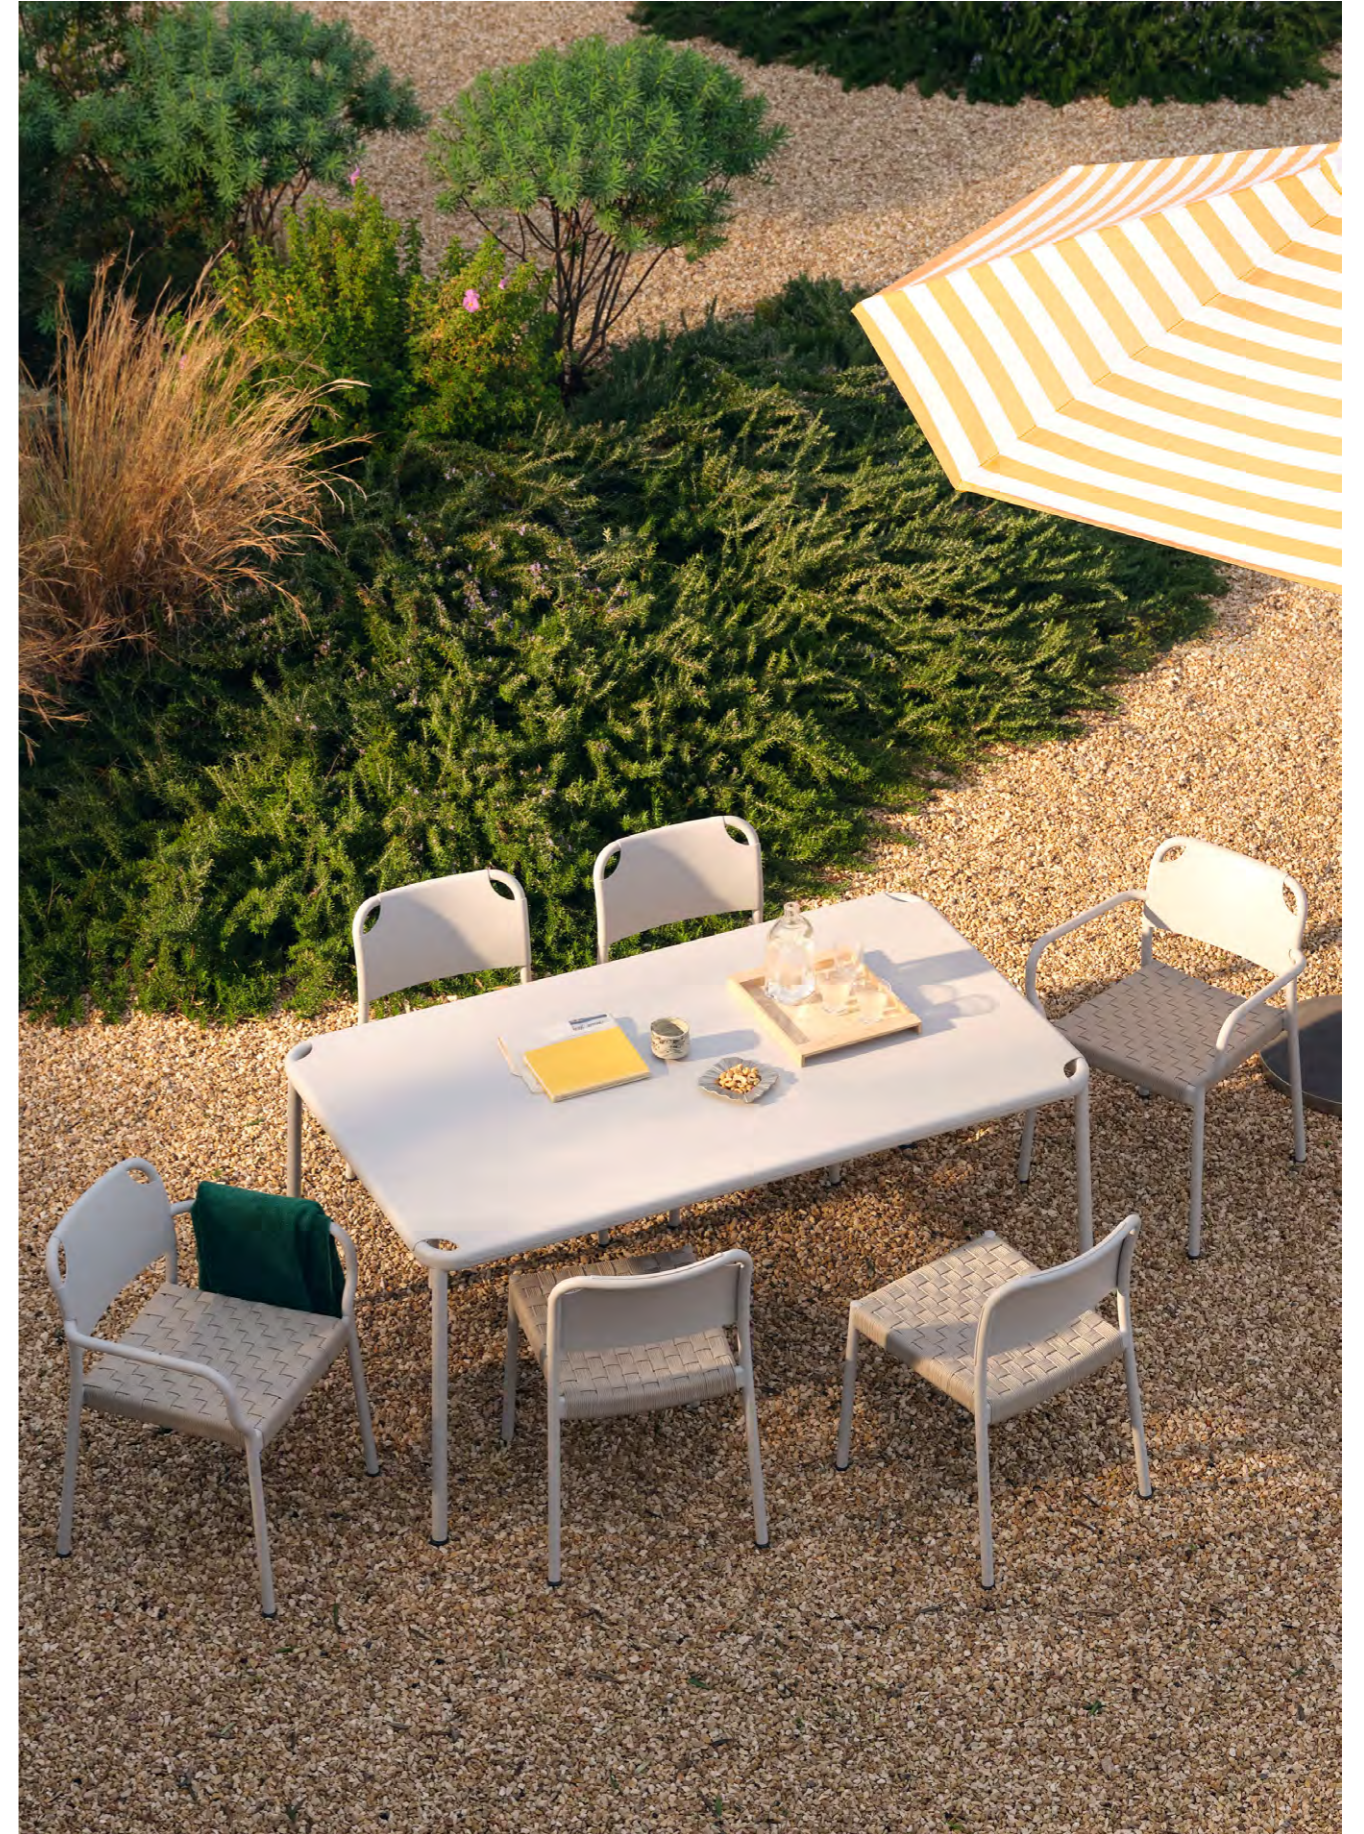

Vind

The Vind series is defined by sculptural lightness and references to sails and Denmark's maritime landscape. Cleanly cut aluminium frames are paired with handwoven polyester cord seats, balancing visual clarity with lightness, comfort and durability. Crafted for longevity and everyday use, Vind brings a quiet, contemporary expression to outdoor dining and social spaces. Designed by Kasper Salto.

“I think a chair should be very comfortable, no matter how long you sit. I’ve used a double-curved geometry in the back. It allows you to sit in several ways, and the chair adapts better to the body with that form.”

VIND SERIES

An Outdoor Series Designed for Louisiana Museum of Modern Art

The Vind series continues the long-standing dialogue between Kasper Salto and Fritz Hansen. Created for the outdoor spaces of the Louisiana Museum of Modern Art, the series takes its name from the Danish word for wind and reflects the openness and calm of the coastal landscape that surrounds the museum.

"It's made to serve people well, like a good host that doesn't draw attention to itself!"
— Kasper Salto

For Salto, Vind begins with a simple ambition: to create furniture that behaves well. "The Vind chair is a tool for sitting," he says. Designed to serve rather than stand out, Vind is quiet in its presence, supporting architecture, landscape, and social life without competing for attention.

Comfort is at the heart of the design. A double-curved backrest follows the body naturally, encouraging relaxed posture over long periods outdoors. This is paired with a handwoven seat where craftsmanship plays a defining role.

The woven surface offers softness and subtle elasticity, making cushions unnecessary and inviting people to linger, unhurried.

Made from aluminium, Vind is light to move yet impressively strong, without the heaviness or rust concerns associated with outdoor steel furniture. Stackable and easy to handle, the chairs adapt effortlessly to changing settings and uses.

Comprising chairs and a dining table in a restrained palette, the Vind Series is designed to belong quietly to its surroundings. Shaped by wind, place, and human use, it is outdoor furniture that serves its purpose with ease, wherever it is placed.

long-lasting, and
calm in its expression.”

KASPER SALTO, DESIGNER

About the designer

Danish designer Kasper Salto is guided by the principle of less but better. Trained as a cabinetmaker before studying industrial design at the Royal Danish Academy, he creates furniture shaped by care for the human experience. Salto advocates for design that prioritises quality, longevity, and purpose. “We can’t afford not to care,” he says, a reminder that thoughtful design takes time and that the best products are created to last.

Cadence Bench, Chair and Table &
Messina Umbrella (300) in Lines, Light Apricot/Dark Green Stripe

“The Cadence Bench is the result of an idea to challenge the function of the ubiquitous seating design, and an investigation into how I could design this piece of furniture differently. I wanted to use a minimum of materials and create something airy, playful, modern and easy to build.”

AURÉLIEN BARBRY, DESIGNER

Between Lines

Crafted with comfort, quality and durability in mind, Between Lines deck chair and stool have a restful expression, perfect for enjoying life slowly in the great outdoors. Designed in collaboration with Danish designer Stine Weigelt.

“The name ‘Between Lines’ emerged from observing how light moves through the chair’s lines. The shadows on the ground became a natural extension of the design, constantly changing depending on light and surroundings.”

STINE WEIGELT, DESIGNER

Between Lines Deck Chair

“I wanted to make it as pleasant as possible for people to enjoy the nature. The sun moves so the double bench can be used on either side and while seeking to design a backrest for comfort I also tried to achieve beauty. The end result is somehow reminiscent of a Japanese daruma or edamame bean, bringing a sort of unexpected softness and dynamism to the strong straight lines of the long teak planks of the seat...”

HUGO PASSOS, DESIGNER

PELAGUS SERIES

Bring Spaces to Life

Pelagus is designed to blend in rather than stand out. Its calm expression and generous comfort allow spaces to unfold naturally, supporting moments of rest, conversation, and togetherness without dictating how they should happen.

“Furniture should seamlessly blend into any environment without overwhelming it.”

NOTE DESIGN STUDIO

The Pelagus Series is designed by Note Design Studio and shaped by a relaxed, adaptable approach to outdoor life. Inspired by the rhythm of the Stockholm archipelago, Pelagus is furniture made to feel at ease in many settings, from urban terraces to places closer to nature.

About the designer
 Note Design Studio is a multidisciplinary design studio based in Stockholm. Working across architecture, interiors, furniture, and graphic design, the studio approaches each project holistically, always considering how objects live within a space. Their work is defined by clarity, curiosity, and a strong sense of atmosphere, creating designs that feel both thoughtful and quietly expressive.

Pelagus Sunbed with armrests

“The design has lived on for more than 35 years. One reason is its graphic look – many beautiful photos have been taken of it. Then there’s its ability to be packed away when not in use, and, of course, its flexibility. It doesn’t have to be fully extended to be functional. Closed, it becomes a table. It’s a piece of furniture with many uses.”

POVL B. ESKILDSEN, DESIGNER

Riviera

Renowned for its flexibility and straightforward appearance, Riviera transforms to suit myriad purposes. The ingenious construction is adjustable by design in both expression and functionality. Add a cushion for extra comfort, neatly pack away when not in use. Designed in 1991 by Danish designer Povl B. Eskildsen.

Materials

Materials chosen for durability, performance, and long-term use outdoors.

Teak

We use teak for most of our outdoor furniture, as it requires little care and maintenance. All of the teak in our outdoor furniture is FSC™-certified. The high content of natural oils makes the teak highly weather and rot resistant and is, therefore, an excellent choice for outdoor furniture.

We only use core teak because it is richer in natural oils making it evenly grained, more weather resistant and longer lasting than the outer teak wood.

Teak is a heavy, hard and sturdy wood type but also an organic material. Teak will naturally expand and contract with changes in temperature and humidity, and can cause small scratches or marks to appear. Remember to re-tighten the fittings from time to time.

Brand new teak furniture has natural colour differences found in the freshly cut wood. Once the furniture has been exposed to the sun, these colour differences will even out. As a natural part of the aging process, the surface of teak will change when first exposed to rain; this is the primary stage of a process of wood that ages beautifully over time.

New

Patinated

CARE & MAINTENANCE

The easiest way to maintain teak is to leave it untreated. This does not affect the durability or quality of the furniture. Untreated teak will develop a patina over time and eventually become a beautiful silvery-grey colour.

It is important to prolong the furniture's lifespan by cleaning it at least once a year. This will remove algae and dirt and make the furniture more resistant in all weathers, all year round. To preserve or intensify the original honey-golden colour of fresh teak, use a suitable furniture oil on a regular basis.

See care guide:

Aluminium

Aluminium is used in several of our outdoor furniture series for its strength, light weight, and resistance to corrosion. The material performs reliably outdoors and can be recycled.

Selected finishes are chosen for durability and everyday use. Over time, aluminium surfaces may show subtle signs of wear, reflecting use rather than deterioration.

CARE & MAINTENANCE

Regular cleaning with mild soap and water is sufficient to maintain the surface. Abrasive cleaners should be avoided.

Upholstery

The outdoor collection includes a selection of upholstery types developed specifically for outdoor use. The upholstery is chosen to support comfort and elevate aesthetics, while meeting the practical demands of outdoor environments.

Textile

Our outdoor textiles are developed to perform in changing weather conditions, resisting water, dirt, and mildew while offering high colour and light-fastness. The result is durable textiles with smooth, tactile surfaces suited to everyday outdoor use.

Designed to dry quickly after exposure to rain or moisture, the textiles support comfortable use throughout the day. Easy to maintain, the upholstery can be cleaned with minimal effort, helping cushions and pillows retain their appearance and comfort over time.

Our textiles for outdoor cushions and pillows are OEKO-TEX®-certified*.

Sling & SunTexture

Sling and SunTexture fabrics are used in selected outdoor seating where flexibility and support are integral to comfort. Tensioned across the frame, the material adapts to the body while maintaining its shape, offering a responsive seating surface without the need for additional cushioning.

Developed for outdoor use, sling and SunTexture fabrics are chosen for their durability and resistance to weather exposure, providing consistent performance with minimal maintenance.

CARE & MAINTENANCE

Cushions and Pillows:

Wipe the fabric with a firmly wrung cloth. In case of more obstinate stains, please follow washing instructions on the product.

For tough stains, mix 20% household bleach with 80% water. Apply the solution, scrub with a sponge or soft brush, soak for a couple of hours, then rinse thoroughly with clean water. If the upholstery is not removable, the textile must only be washed with a wrung cloth.

Umbrellas:

If the fabric becomes dirty, try to remove the dirt with a brush or damp cloth. Washing in a machine is not recommended.

Sling and SunTexture:

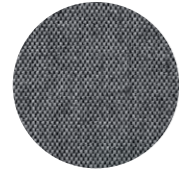

To remove stains, use a wrung cloth with soap and water and finish by wiping with a dry cloth.

Please always check and follow washing instructions on product.
