FIRENZE

TAILOR MADE KITCHENS
A SELECTION OF UNIQUE PROJECTS

“ At Officine Gullo we manufacture considering much longer timespans than the industrial production in our sector. We create products that can be updated and improved, but never destroyed or forsaken. We work and design for modern living and for the antiques of tomorrow. Every element provides resilience, beauty and prestige derived from the materials used. In every creation, Florentine traditions are blended with meticulous research into function and beauty: we refine the steel structures of our cooking ranges with elements in hand-hammered brass, copper, high-thickness galvanic finishes and engraving, in the same way that artisans in Florence have forged metal for centuries, crafting unique works of art. We are proud to add our name to everything that comes from our workshops, safe in the knowledge that this name will stand the test of time together with our creations.

“ Florence as an inspiration

The beauty of the city, in which we have the good fortune to live and work, amalgamates the two cores of our production: tradition and technology. The wonders of this astonishing place inspire us every day; they guide our imagination every time we devote ourselves to a project. I'm thinking about the perfect geometry concealed on the frontages of Florence's palazzos, in the frescoes and sculptures which we have as a guideline while we forge the metal for our creations.

Florence and origins of the kitchen

In the history surrounding the origins of the kitchen, cooking food has been elevated from necessity to art form with the honing of technological and mechanical expertise, united in the pursuit of utility that is equally discernible as beauty. Florence and Tuscany played a crucial role in this, given that research and studies were conducted in the field by figures such as Leonardo da Vinci, Leon Battista Alberti and Francesco di Giorgio Martini, as well as blacksmiths and chimney manufacturers, all representatives of a culture in which technical and artistic interests have always been inextricably linked.

Since the Renaissance, metalworking has always been one of the excellences in Florentine art and craftsmanship, as evidenced by the bronze masterpieces at the Bargello Museum, in the Loggia del Lanzi and in the city's churches. Florence was a place where artists such as Ghiberti, Donatello, Cellini and Giambologna forged their bronze showpieces. Bronze sculpture reached its height in Florence between the late seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries, at the time of the last Medici grand dukes, when the art became the object of important commissions by rulers and nobles across Europe. As diplomatic gifts, these bronze sculptures established exquisite Florentine taste on the international stage.

In contemporary Tuscany, by means of constant research entwined with a devotion to the very best traditions, kitchens continue to be manufactured that enjoy worldwide acclaim, derived from the finest materials, artisanal methods and an innate love of beauty that underpins the process from design to construction. The ethos of Officine Gullo embraces the best that modern technology can provide, while the overall aesthetic respects centuries-old traditions. The kitchens accommodate professional cooking systems while remaining homely spaces where food is served and shared.

Noble metals only

Fine materials with superlative properties based on time-honored traditions are selected and handcrafted in thicknesses that vary between 3 and 7 mm, resulting in timeless and beguiling creations.

Special techniques: endless solutions for bespoke kitchens

All Officine Gullo kitchens can be made in any color on the RAL color chart, in addition to customized shades available on request. A wide range of finishes are available for brass details, such as the trims and handles, from classic galvanic finishes, including polished chrome, black or satin-finish nickel, to colored touches for a tone-on-tone effect or a contrast with the predominant structural color. We also offer an opaque high-tech finish for an ultra-modern effect. Still today the brass working is completely handmade and every kitchen is in the charge of a single craftsman who follows its production.

Burnishing

Burnishing is always performed by hand to darken and lighten surfaces simultaneously, evoking slight ageing on the metal surface. The beauty of brass means that it changes with time, proudly revealing its age.

Galvanizing

Brass gains a new form through the galvanizing process. The natural qualities of the material are enhanced with polished or brushed chrome, nickel and matte effects.

Silver soldering

Metals continue to be soldered by hand for Officine Gullo products because only the human eye can spot details that machinery is still unable to see.

Chiseling

Chiseling by master craftspeople ensures that all Officine Gullo products are refined in every detail.

Lathing

Handcrafted products such as solid brass bars are shaped using a lathe. Every piece is shaped and worked on the lathe before entering into production.

Hand hammering

Hand hammering on the trim and panels accentuates the texture of the metal and achieves unique weave.

A gift for the future generations: the antiques of tomorrow

Because of the durable and prized materials by which they are crafted, Officine Gullo kitchens are expertly made to withstand wear and tear over time. While the average lifespan of a kitchen ranges between ten and fifteen years, Officine Gullo kitchens are designed to last forever. Purchasing an Officine Gullo kitchen is not something you just do for yourself; it is for your children and grandchildren as well. It is an investment in the future, a leap of faith into the centuries to come.

Colours and finishings

Our collection can be produced in any of the 213 RAL k7 colours in both matte and glossy finish.
Other personalized colours can be custom created. Other finishings are available on request.

The printing methods of the catalogues can determine colour differences. For a correct evaluation of tone and colour it is necessary to refer to the physical samples. In any case, metal and the artisanal finishing processes are subject to natural and inevitable differences in tone/surface texture that compared to the physical sample may result as being different.

Burnished Brass

Natural brass is a "live" material which stains very easily because its surface oxidises when in contact with any substance. To reduce this effect we burnish our trims. This finishing is obtained by immersing the brass into a specific acid, accelerating its "aging" process and ensuring an even, darker finish.

Polished Brass

This finishing is obtained by polishing all brass components artigianally, creating a rich and shiny effect. To maintain this effect it must be regularly treated and cleaned with specific products.

Brushed Copper

This finishing is obtained in a galvanic bath process by merging a copper layer onto the surfaces of our solid brass components.

Polished Chrome

This finishing is obtained in a galvanic bath process by merging a chrome layer onto the surfaces of our previously polished solid brass components.

Brushed Chrome

This finishing is obtained in a galvanic bath process by merging a chrome layer onto the surfaces of our previously satined or brushed solid brass components.

Brushed Nickel

This finishing is obtained in a galvanic bath process by merging a nickel layer onto the surfaces of our previously satined or brushed solid brass components.

Gunmetal

This finishing is obtained in a galvanic bath process by merging a dark nickel layer onto the surfaces of our previously satined or brushed solid brass components.
