

FORNASETTI

The syntax of making

Milan Design Week 2023

For Milan Design Week 2023, Fornasetti is expanding its universe of furniture and accessories for the home with three new collections that express the unique, artisan savoir-faire hidden behind the Atelier's creations.

The collected selection of archived images, the unmistakable black stroke of the screen-printed ink drawings and the manual application of colour that creates intriguing, textured layers all contribute to the Fornasetti syntax of making, which still follows the same path that began in the 1940s.

The new Fornasetti furniture and accessories have lighter, more versatile designs that adapt and give character to even the most intimate spaces. Decorated cabinets and night stands take on new polyhedral shapes in smaller sizes suited to contemporary living, while maintaining the magnetic power of Fornasetti décor. Mirrors, lamps and other furnishings contribute to creating themed microcosms in every room of the house.

Giardino Settecentesco

Fantastical landscapes and buildings in neoclassical style coexist in a world where nature merges with architecture, whimsy with precision, in a romantic vision made even more mysterious by playful reflections and perspective effects. All Giardino Settecentesco furniture and accessories are silkscreened by hand using the original technique used in the Forties. The decoration comes in three different colour variations.

Musciarabia con rose

The interplay of lines and volumes in the Musciarabia con rose decoration is perfectly reflected in the novel many-sided shapes that distinguish the collection for Milan Design Week 2023. Intricate geometric labyrinths in black and white are enriched by the flowering of silkscreened, hand-painted roses, in a balanced counterpoint between the mathematics of design and the poetry of natural forms.

Giro di conchiglie

A celebration of savoir-faire, inspired by the marine world, in which seashells silkscreened and illuminated by silver leaf imitate reality, in line with Fornasetti's taste for trompe-l'oeil decorations. The water-streaked effect of the background, hand painted by the Atelier's artisans, escalates the perspective trickery and makes each piece of furniture and accessory a unique work of art.
